

Jim Tingey has over thirty-five years of executive management experience in diverse business fields including banking, retail, hospitality, medical, and finance. Founded in 1992, he serves as President and CEO of Financial Service Solutions Inc, (“FSS”) a U.S. and International management consulting corporation in the area of specialized, high risk, and emerging products and electronic banking and FinTech financial services. He also serves as President and CEO of Jade Compliance, a California Corporation specializing in Cannabis Banking.

Prior, Jim served as Division President in Electronic High Risk Banking of three California based banks, Pacific Western Bank, First California Bank, and Palm Desert National Bank with a primary specialty in treasury, digital, and electronic banking, and with a focus in the area of high risk account and transaction banking services. Jim served in executive management within the finance and cash management for the 2002 Salt Lake Winter Olympics.

Jim has provided adjunct professor roles at two colleges in finance and served as a guest lecturer for central banks and federal reserve and FDIC within the U.S. and internationally in multiple capacities. He has provided expert testimony in both state and federal courts. Jim has also served on the financial institution committees in acquiring and issuing products for Visa, MasterCard, and Discover.